

The program is managed as follows:

The child thread writes to the file continuously and the main thread reads from the file continuously.

Only one thread is generated at Run-Time.

The software was deliberately implemented without the use of signal management (SIGINT - CTR + C), the program never ends. The arrest must be made forcibly.

And restart the loop.